Action Taken Report on Stakeholders Feedback on Curriculum 2020-2021

To be placed before College Council and Managing Board of Colleges

Newman College is committed to providing its students with a high-quality education that prepares them for success in their future endeavors. The college's curriculum is regularly reviewed and suggestions are sought to ensure that it is meeting the needs of all stakeholders, including students, teachers, alumni, and employers.

The college has received feedback from all stakeholders and the following were the recommendations:

- Students, teachers, and alumni demanded for increasing opportunities for students to engage in creative learning activities.
- Students, teachers, alumni and employers suggested to develop their skills through entrepreneurship experience and other hands-on learning experiences.
- Teachers suggested that the curriculum should be updated more frequently to reflect the latest educational advancements.
- Teachers emphasised the need for more opportunities for students to conduct research and project-related activities.
- Alumni proposed that the curriculum should align even more closely to meet global competency.
- Employers recommended that the college should give students a better awareness of new employment opportunities and required skills.

Actions Taken

The college is taking this feedback seriously and is developing a plan to address the identified areas for improvement and the following actions were taken:

- Offered more seminars and workshops that focus on creative thinking and problem-solving.
- Encouraged students to participate in creative competitions and hackathons.
- Established Institution Innovation Council (IIC) to help students find and apply for opportunities. The college promoted entrepreneurial development among students by offering courses on entrepreneurship, providing mentorship opportunities, or hosting business plan competitions.
- Offered professional development opportunities for teachers to stay up-to-date on the latest educational advancements.
- Required students to complete a research or project-related course as part of their degree program and encouraged students to publish their research findings in academic journals and conferences.
- Created G-Suite ID for all the faculty and students of the college and introduced LMS Linways for effective curriculum planning and delivery.
- Invited employers to campus to give talks and workshops about the latest job trends and required skills.
- Organized career fairs and offered career counselling services to help students identify their strengths and weaknesses, and develop a career plan.
- Helped students create resumes and cover letters, and practice interviewing skills.

The feedback from all stakeholders provides valuable insights into how the college can improve its educational offerings and better prepare students for success. By implementing the suggested actions, the college can create a more engaging, hands-on, and globally-minded learning environment that will benefit students, teachers, alumni, and employers alike. Embracing a culture of feedback and continuous improvement will ensure that the college remains responsive to the evolving needs of its stakeholders.
